The Ingelix™ Team Strength Analysis will provide an overview of your entire team strength in order to understand the dynamics of your group through each of its members. The Ingelix™ Compatibility Analysis compares the results of custom assessment allowing for the quick identification of any possible personality conflicts before asking employees to work together.

EXIT MONITORING

As an add-on solution.

It's inevitable that employees will leave your work environment through some type of exit. Each employee departure removes something from your organization and the teams you assembled to advance your business. Ingelix™ captures exit data so our proprietary adaptation process can continue to monitor the changes in your workforce. We then determine the exact type of talent your organization needs as a result of those departures and adjust your future hiring requirements without any human intervention.
